Nice vape, but.. ★★★★★

Posted by J.N. on Oct 25, 2017

This tank is easy to handle and has a confidence, but I have had a lot of trouble from moving it just wrong and ripping it apart by accident the option, it is just one that reminds me every so often that I need to be more delicate with it when I pick it up and cover myself with e-liquid.

Nice. I'm digging it. ★★★★★☆

I got this big boy in blue. Its a monster if a tank and at first i kept doing something wrong it seemed because it just leaked. I played with it a bit and twisted the post a few notches on every puff to see if i just needed to be in the right spot. That worked and now this crazy giant stores my adv. Loving it.

color not as expected ★★★★★

Posted by Tammy on Jun 02, 2013

green is my fav color, when i got it, it looks more like puke..not what at leasti see in the pic. These are very handy tanks for for everything NOT volatile..never had leaking or gasket issues.

Perfect! ★★★★★

I just purchased this tank and I will purchase more. No leaks and pretty easy to fill. I used the blunt nosed tips to help fill the tank higher.
Word of caution, as described on filling the tank, If the carto is not primed properly and it burns; it always tastes burnt and does not wick properly. Thankfully i bought 5 replacement cartos. Tossed the first one and I followed the directions to fill and it works perfect now. Love it. Best tank I have ever used. Not a huge fan of the wick tanks.

I bought the DC 1.5 OHM. Awesome taste, vapor and throat hit.

PS I also bought some Liquid that is steeping now. Packing was outstanding, especially with little ones in the house.

beware of cinnamon on rubber seals ★★★★★☆

Posted by Tammy...Kentucky on Feb 02, 2013

I think these tanks are awesome..only problemi have with them is after about amonth or so the rubber seals start to disintergrate inside the tank, and i fully believe its from the cinnamon flavors i smoke. its mainly the inner seal that does it, sometimes have had leaching into the outer one. I try and suc the rubber bits out with a blunt tip syringe to mak eit last a bit longer, but in the end i tink it gets sucked into the cartos, because i am sure there are pieces i cant see to take out. Over all this is the best tank for the buck, and to me the most reliable. Glass tanks seems to provide a better flavor but i have found them to be picky meaning they tend to eak or flood if the vg/pg ratio ist justright wih my 2hole dual coil cartos, the polypropylene mix ones do tend to cloud after time with cinnamon, but i think its still a nice easy to use tank without alot of mess for the money.

3 holes? ★★★★★

Posted by Bonnie E. on Nov 25, 2012

The Carto that came with the Tank had 3 holes. I dont know what possessed me NOT to count the holes and I put in 70% 30% and it immediately flooded and burned out.
Ya I counted the holes then...grrr

If I'd used 50>50, it might not have flooded.
Over all the Tank is a good one, with metal caps on each end.

I'm bummed about the carto but life goes on. I wonder if they all come that way?

My search for the perfect tank system ends here ★★★★★

Posted by Unknown on Nov 15, 2012

I tried many Tanks/Clearomizers in the past year and I'm frustrated with the experience, those systems definitively have flaws that no one could work around yet imho.

I finally gave this product a chance and I must say I will NEVER buy some crappy wick tank ever, this is the shit.

Simple, cost efficient, looks very good on my provari and I can vape it all day without having to fill it up. Never had a little leak or liquid coming up the drip tip, you can fill it up to the border to it's full 6ml capacity without problem. It tastes perfect and the warmth and vapor production is awesome.

I may end up trying some other more expensive tanks in the future just for the look and feel, but it will have to be a 6ml dual coil carto-tank system exactly like this one! It's nothing new but no other products can beat this.

Must have! ★★★★★

Posted by Nick on Sep 24, 2012

Just recieved my tank today! This thing is amazing, no more popping the top off my cartomizer, just refill tank and it atomically saturates the filter inside the carto! This is a must have if you refill your cartomizers. Thank you ECblend!

GOTTA HAVE! ★★★★★

Posted by MarciaJTEC on Sep 22, 2012

I have a few 3.5 and a 6ML Dual Coil Tank and these are outrageously convenient.. You fill up the center core, then the outer area..

This last's a long time. You aren't constantly refilling/replacing e-liquid/carts.

The price is also very nice! It's worth it!
